THURSDAY APRIL 20, 2017
“The Embodied Power of Sankofa”
Stephanie Y. Mitchem (University of South Carolina)
6:00 - 7:30 PM, 630 William Pitt Union
Pre-keynote reception from 5:00 - 6:00 PM

SATURDAY APRIL 22, 2017
“Embodiment, Relationality, and Materiality in African Religion and the African Diaspora Traditions”
Jacob K. Olupona (Harvard University Divinity School)
2:00 - 3:30 PM, 501 Cathedral of Learning
Post-keynote reception from 3:30 - 4:15 PM

FRIDAY APRIL 21, 2017
“Seeing into the Unseen: Embodied Knowledge & Disembodied Spirits in Islamic West Africa”
Rudolph Ware (University of Michigan)
5:00 - 6:30 PM, 630 William Pitt Union
Pre-keynote reception from 4:00 - 5:00 PM

These three PUBLIC LECTURES are part of the Diverse Spiritualities Symposium! For more information, please EMAIL THE SYMPOSIUM ORGANIZERS Yolanda Covington Ward (YDC1@pitt.edu) and Jeanette Jouili (JOUILLI@pitt.edu). FOR THE FULL SYMPOSIUM SCHEDULE VISIT: www.religiousstudies.pitt.edu/events.

This symposium is sponsored by the Year of Diversity, the Humanities Center, the Faculty Research Scholarship Program, the Dept. of African Studies, the African Studies Program, the Dept. of Religious Studies, the Center for Latin American Studies, the Global Studies Center, the World History Center, the Gender, Sexuality, and Women’s Studies Program, the Dept. of History, the Cultural Studies Program, and the Dept. of Theatre Arts.